1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on November 30, 2006 has been entered.

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1, 3-5 and 9-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Meyer (EP 0,259,713, pages 3-4) in view of Fujimori et al as set forth in paragraph nos. 7, 8 and 10 of said Office action.

4. Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Meyer in view of Fujimori et al as applied to claims 1, 3-5 and 9-12 above, and further in view of Gil et al as set forth in paragraph no. 9 of said Office action.

5. Claims 1, 3-6 and 9-12 are also rejected on the ground of res judicata since the rejections of these claims, as set forth above, was affirmed by the Board of Appeals in Appeal No. 2005-1949.

Art Unit: 1761

6. Applicant's arguments filed November 30, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Despite the alleged deficiencies of Fujimori et al described by applicant, the skilled artisan would be led to rely upon the teachings in Fujimori et al that FOS are used in pet foods to reduce objectionable odors in pet wastes. Accordingly, it would have been obvious to include FOS in the canine milk or canine milk substitute, which is a pet food, of either primary reference for this intended purpose. The fact that Fujimori et al does not mention liquid pet foods, as applicant contends, is irrelevant since pet wastes are produced by pets regardless of the form or state of the pet food that the pets consume. Finally, although Fujimori et al may prefer to use a specific FOS, as applicant contends, applicant's claims are neither limited to any specific FOS nor do they preclude the FOS preferred in Fujimori et al.

7. Claims 7 and 8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

8. All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the application prior to the entry of the submission under 37 CFR 1.114 and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the application prior to entry under 37 CFR 1.114. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action after the filing of a request for continued examination and the submission under 37 CFR 1.114. See MPEP § 706.07(b).

Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
